

P. Janani, an Assistant Professor, earned her B.A.LL.B., degree in 2022 from Dr. Ambedkar Government Law College in Pudupakkam, Chennai. She subsequently completed her Master of Law in 2024 at School of Excellence in Law in The Tamil Nadu Dr. Ambedkar Law University, specializing in Human Rights and Duties Education. Her academic research focuses on the Enforcement of The Hague Adoption Convention, The Awareness of NOTA as a Voting Right in the Electoral System, and A Critical Study on the Role of CARA in Promoting Rights of the Children. She specializes in Human Rights, Law of Torts, Family Law, BNSS, and Civil Procedure Code, and teaches Property Law and Constitutional Law. She has presented research papers at 2 national conferences organized by National Commission for Women, focusing on human rights and constitutional law and also has participated in 3 national webinars. She has been practicing as an Advocate from 2022 in the Combined Courts of Dharmapuri, Tamil Nadu.